IBExpert Personal Edition

You can follow this guide on how to Install IBExpert Personal Edition.

The IBExpert Personal Edition is a free version of the IBExpert Developer Studio software that we offer to our customers for personal use. It includes access to the IBExpert IDE. (All other IBExpert Developer Studio modules are available in the IBExpert Developer Studio full version.)

1. The Personal Edition is certainly not intended for commercial use on multiple computers in a company, nor to be passed on or sold to others.

2. The Personal Edition may not be activated for other users.

3. Use of the IBExpert Personal Edition is only allowed by the person who has conducted the download from his/her account in the IBExpert Download Center.

4. A developer may use the Personal Edition commercially at his employer's (according to the terms in 3.). Any use by any other person or any form of distribution is strictly prohibited without prior written permission and will be prosecuted.

5. One free activation per customer per week is allowed.

Activations for the Personal Edition are valid until the end of a calendar month. When starting the Personal Edition at the beginning of the new month you need to enter a new activation code.

IBExpert Benchmark Tool - Free Special Version

The Benchmark Tool is quick and easy to use: Follow this guide on, How to Install the IBExpert Benchmark Tool.

Running the benchmark will not overwrite any programs already in use, nor does it install anything, so you can safely run the benchmark on your server. The IBExpert Benchmark Tool does not use an existing Firebird installation and will only test the drive on which it is installed.

Select the Firebird version you wish to use for your benchmark in the left-hand panel: Firebird 2.5 Superserver, Firebird 3.0 Superserver or Firebird 4.0 Superserver. The selection in this free version has been limited so that even users with no Firebird knowledge or experience can easily perform this quick benchmark test.

The right-hand window in this free version is read-only. (In the paid version you can enter any and all of this information, e.g. define your own connection string and client library file).
